

Russian Politics and Government

Preface.

Table o Contents.

Part I. Russia: Continuity and Change

Chapter 1. Studying Russian government and politics

Why we study Russia

Size and geopolitics.

Military power.

Economic Power.

Cultural hub.

Multi-ethnic state.

How we study Russia

Official Reports.

Statements, letters, and communiqués.

Eyewitness Sources.

Intelligence reports.

Surveys.

Views of Russia and its politics

Russia is an authoritarian state

Russia is a semi-authoritarian state

Russia is a hybrid state

Russia is a “sovereign democracy”

Domestic politics and views of Russia

Critical thinking about Russia

Emotions and judgments.

“Convenient” assumptions.

Multiple causes of events.

Political pressure.

Conclusion

Chapter 2. The Roots: The Russian Empire and the Soviet Union

Early Russian States

The Mongol Rule

Strengthening of Moscow

Russia as an Empire

Reforms of Peter the Great

Becoming a major power

The reforms of the 1860s-70s.

The Revolutions

- The Revolution of 1905-07
- The Revolutions of 1917
- The events of February
- The October Revolution
- The Development of the Soviet State
 - The Civil War
 - Industrialization
 - Agricultural Policies
 - Government bureaucracy
 - Political repressions
 - Political mobilization
 - The Great Patriotic War
- The Soviet Union during the Cold War
 - The Post-War Reconstruction.
 - The Thaw
 - The Stagnation
- Critical Thinking
 - The imperial-moralistic tradition
 - The “unique experience” models
 - The Sovietologists
- Conclusion

Chapter 3. The Soviet Transformation (1985-1991)

- Why the reforms were necessary
- The beginning of the transformation
 - Mounting problems
 - The rise of Mikhail Gorbachev
 - Attempts to revive the old system
 - Early steps
- Perestroika and Glasnost
 - Opening up
 - Changes in the media
 - Reforming the Communist Party
 - Further political changes
 - Economic reforms
 - Weakening the federal system
 - Changes in foreign policy
 - Changes in the military
- Unintended Consequences
 - Growing socioeconomic problems
 - Uncertainty and frustrations
 - Criticisms of foreign policy
 - A collapsing union
 - The awakening of the opposition

- Democratic opposition
- August 1991 coup
- A summary: the reforms of 1985-1991
- Critical Thinking: Assessing the reforms
 - International factors: the Cold War pressures
 - International factors: Imperial overstretch
 - Domestic economic and political factors
 - Domestic factors: the elites
 - Individual factors: The Gorbachev-Yeltsin struggle
 - Other explanations and theories
- Conclusion

Part II: Institutions and Elections

Chapter 4. The Executive Branch

- Key developments
 - The Adoption of the Constitution
 - The Conflict
- The President of the Russian Federation
 - Basic Functions
 - A case in Point. Biographies of two Russian Presidents
 - Presidential Administration (Executive Office)
 - The Security Council of the Russian Federation
- The Government of the Russian Federation
 - Main responsibilities.
- The Subjects of the Russian Federation
 - Russia as a Federal State
 - An Early Evolution of the Federal System (1991-2000)
- The Consolidation of Executive Power
 - After the 1996 Presidential Elections.
 - Strengthening of the Executive Branch
 - Federal districts
 - The Reorganization of the Federation Council.
 - The Political Reform of 2004
 - An expanding bureaucratic machine
 - Local government
- Critical Thinking about the Executive Branch
 - The executive power: The three stages of the evolution.
 - Authoritarian Transitions.
 - Sovereign democracy
 - Transitional power.
- Conclusion

Chapter 5. The Legislative Branch

Key Developments

- The 1993 Elections.
- The 1995 Elections.
- Parliamentary Elections of 1999 and 2003.
- The reform of 2005.
- Elections of 2007.
- Constitutional Amendments of 2008.

The State Duma

- Structure of the Duma.
- The Duma Committees
- Functioning of the Duma.

The Federation Council

- Structure of the Federation Council.
- Committees of the Federation Council.
- Elections to the Federation Council.
- Functioning.

The Duma and the Federation Council: Joint functions and procedures.

Critical Thinking about the Legislative Branch

- A weak legislation branch
- Legislative elections: are they democratic enough?

Conclusion

Chapter 6. The Judicial Branch and Justice Administration

Key Developments

- The Federal court system
- The trial system

The Constitutional Court of the Russian Federation

- Court's functioning
- Court rulings

The Supreme Court

- The Supreme Court structure
- Court decisions

The Supreme Arbitration Court

Russian Criminal Code

- Structure of the Criminal Code

The Prosecutor's Office

- Purpose of the Office
- Structure
- A case in point. The Investigative Committee of the Prosecutor's Office Ministry of Justice

Law Enforcement: Ministry of the Internal Affairs

Critical Thinking about Russia's Legal System

How independent is the system?

It is too, "work in progress"

Conclusion

Part III: Political Behavior, Participation, and Communication

Chapter 7. Political Parties

Key Developments

The first stage: discovery

The second stage: growth

The third and fourth stages: consolidation and centralization

On Russian Political Terminology

The spectrum of political attitudes

"Left" and "right" distinctions

Major Political Parties

United Russia

The Liberal Democratic Party

The Communist Party

Just Russia

Other political parties

Critical Thinking about Parties and Elections

The developmental approach

The authoritarian views

The nationalist platform.

Populism.

The powerful elites view.

Conclusion

Chapter 8. Presidential and Parliamentary Elections

Key Developments

Early democratic elections

Elections in the Soviet Union

Parliamentary elections

The 1993 Duma Elections.

The 1995 Duma Elections.

The 1999, 2003, and 2007 Election.

Presidential Elections

Presidential elections 1996: Populism and Fear.

Presidential Elections of 2000: Managing from Top.

The 2008 elections.

Critical thinking

Russian elections are democratic

Elections are problematic

The internal factors

Conclusion

Chapter 9. Political communications and mobilization

Key Developments

The Soviet period

Crucial Changes

Media Today

Television Networks

Newspapers

Radio

New Media

Strategies of Political Communication and Mobilization

What the government ignores

Sensitive issues

What the government promotes

Critical Thinking about Political Communications

Russia is like any other country.

Media is not free... like in other states.

Media is not free

Creative authoritarianism

Conclusion

Part IV: Russian Policies

Chapter 10. Economic and Business Policies

Key developments

The reforms of the early 1990s.

The Crisis of 1998.

Growth of the 2000s.

Crisis of 2008-09

Government regulation of the economy.

Government regulation of the economy.

The Finance Ministry

Taxation and Tax Policies

Economic Strategies

Principles of economic policies.

The Energy Sector

Agricultural Policies

- Foreign cooperation.
- Politics and Big Business
- Critical Thinking about Russia's Economic Policies
 - Liberal or illiberal economy?
 - State Capitalism?
 - The "Controlled" Private Mass Media
 - Future developments.
 - Negative experiences
- Conclusion

Chapter 11. Social Policies: Health, Education, and Housing

- Key Developments
 - Health Problems and Population Decline
 - Health Care
 - Pensions
 - Housing
 - Education
 - Higher Education
- Government Institutions
 - Key Ministries
 - Policy dilemmas
- The National Priority Projects
 - National Health Project
 - National Education Project
 - College education
 - National Housing Project
- Critical Thinking about Social Policies
 - Ideology-driven opinions
 - Pragmatic assessments.
- Conclusion

Chapter 12. Foreign Policy

- Key Developments
 - The War in Bosnia.
 - The NATO expansion.
 - Counter-terrorism and Chechnya.
 - The War in Afghanistan and Iraq.
 - Nuclear arms talks with America.
 - The Georgia Conflict.
- Foreign Policy Institutions
 - A brief history.
 - The Ministry of Foreign Affairs.
- Foreign Policy Concept

New concept under Putin.

Continuation under Medvedev.

Specific Policies

Former Soviet Republics.

The West.

Eurasia and China

Critical Thinking about Foreign Policy

Does Russia have enemies?

Strategic: Russia's interests

Accommodating: Russia as part of the West

Choosing a tough line.

Looking for common ground

Conclusion.

Chapter 13. Defense and Security Policies

Key Developments

Soviet Policies

Changes during perestroika and after

Major challenges

The Commander-in-Chief

Defense Ministry of the Russian Federation

Structure of the Defense Ministry

Military draft

Military Policies

Military Threats

Geopolitics and mass military mobilization.

Nuclear Defense

An ongoing military reform

Arms sales

Federal Security Service

The Structure of the FSS.

Security Policies: Current Activities.

FSS Justifies its Role

External Intelligence Service

State Secrets

Counterterrorism Policies

Critical Thinking about Defense and Security Policies

Defense Priorities

Russian Militarism?

The Military Reform

Judging Security Policies.

Conclusion

Chapter 14. Summary and Conclusion

A brief tour back

Economy and economic policies

Social policies and dependency

Foreign Policy and Security

Government